

Your Story Begins With: John had a doctor's appointment.

John had a doctor's appointment. He was very nervous. He couldn't wait to see his doctor. He got in his car and drove out to the hospital. Once there, he waited patiently until the doctor gave him his prescription. When he got to the office, John saw his doctor in the waiting room. John's doctor gave him a prescription for pain pills. John was very thankful for the pills and was relieved. He went home that night and took his pills. He felt much better the next day. John had his doctor